German Socialists Purify Their Ranks by Expelling Advocates of Anarchy.

Herren Werner and Other Revolutionists Advised to Form a Party of Their Own-Close of the Erfurt Congress.

[Copyright, 1891, by the New York Associated Press.] BERLIN, Oct. 17 .- The proceedings of the Socialist congress at Erfurt have so heightened the reputation of the leaders of the party and of the greater part of the delegates for tact and moderation as to give the whole party a new character in the eyes of the country. Whatever may be thought concerning the wisdom or lack of wisdom of their ideals, the party will henceforth be free from the stigma of mere revolutionism. Constitutional radicalism, seeking to attain its aims by rational, pacific is now the spirit which German socialism. The specsocialism-anarchy-which has long been haunting the minds of the upper class of German bourgeoise and the bureaucracy, is forever laid. From the outset of the congress a few noisy extremists-Herren Werner, Wildberger, Lutz an others-in a miserable numerical minority, displayed in debate mental incapacity so pitiable as to cover themselves with lasting ridicule. Their mob rhetoric was laughed at, and their commonplace denunciations of capitalism were heard in silent scorn. Their charges against the directing committee of being a party of tyrants and self-seekers, holding doubtful relations with the enemies of socialism, were met with energetic demands for their expulsion from the Socialist party. Herr Bebel advised the extremists to leave the party, form an organization of their own, and preach revolution it was believed in, but not men who were determined marily responsible. to pursue a moderate, progressive onged exhibition of blatant inaptitude had its limits, and yesterday amid cries of "Aus," "Aus," Herr Werner and his colleagues vanished, probably forever from the Socialist ranks.

The addresses delivered before the congress showed a difference of opinion regarding the attitude of the Socialist party and Germany's foreign policy. Herren Bebei and Liebknecht held that German ocialists should first assume a national and then an international character. Herr Vollmar proclaimed himself in favor of a purely national organization, and Herr Singer was inclined to reconcile the international with the national. Healthy, patriotic Germanism, however, characterized the speeches on all sides, except that of

On motion of Herr Bebel, the congress to-night adopted a comprehensive resolu-tion to the effect that in consideration of the fact that the movement of the pro-letariat aims at the possession of political power, which can be only achieved by per-severing, the congress declares that no reason exists why a change should be made from the tactics formerly pursued.

Although it indulges in no delusions concerning the immediate results to be obtained from action in Parliament the congress deems agitation for the return of Socialist members to the for the return of Socialist members to the Reichstag, various landtags and communal councils of special benefit to the propaganda. The congress demands that each adherent party give explicit adhesion to the resolutions adopted by a majority on matters of general policy, leaving individual members full right to criticise the action of Socialist members of the Reichstag and orders issued through the party organ. Finally, the congress affirms that the principles of right, truth and morality ought to guide the members of the party in their dealings with bers of the party in their dealings with each other and with all men, of whatever race or religion. The congress adjourned

THE DUTIES ON AMERICAN GRAIN. The negotiations between Mr. William Walter Phelps, the United States minister, and Chancellor Von Caprivi for a reduction of the duty on American grain and breadstuffs generally proceed. It is not likely. however, that anything will be decided on before the new Austrian treaty of commerce is promulgated. The reduction of the tariff on American pork products is also involved with the pending German treaties. It is expected that Minister Phelps will succeed in securing for America equal privileges with Austria.

Bankers of this city, who have the best information through Paris and St. Petersburg, utterly discredit the reports regarding the success of the Russian loan. Dispatches from St. Petersburg, received on the bourse here, state that the Russian applications are almost entirely from the banks. At the Imperial Bank of St. Petersburg, which is open for the reception of subscriptions to the loan, only five persons have applied, taking in all only six of the bonds. French bull operators in Russian securities appeared on the bourse here to-day, but finding that blocks of these securities were readily offered they ceased dealing, leaving prices offered they ceased dealing, leaving prices unchanged. The North German Gazette gives prominence to a semi-official statement published by the Vienna Presse that the recent conference between M. De Giers tried, but failed, to convince the Italian Premier that the interests of Russia and Italian Premier that the interests of Russia

Herr Wermuth, imperial commissioner from Germany to the world's fair, has arrived in this city from Chicago. The reports which he has already sent will give great encouragement to the German exhibitors. CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—The world's fair board of reference and control has decided to call a conference of representatives of the State world's fair organizations in all the States to meet with the board in this city in December next. The object is to unify and harmoniously arrange the work. It is aiready becoming apparent that the demand for space for exhibits will exceed even the generous provision therefor, and it will be an important feature of the conference to systematize the exhibits, with a view to the exclusion of unworthy displays.

Murderer Evans, Who Emptied His Revolver Into His Enemy, Gets a Life Sentence.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 17 .- The Evans murder trial reached a conclusion this morning, when the jury returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree and fixed the punishment at life imprisonment. The trial occupied eight days of the term. two of which were consumed in the argument by counsel. The verdict was not unexpected by the people, the vigorous prosecution, to say nothing of the testimony in the case, having prepared the public for a conviction. The jury was out over-night, but did not agree upon a verdict till 9 o'clock this morning. The prisoner was brought into court manacled, for the first time during the trial, the precaution having been taken to guard against an escape or any demonstration of violence. He joined by his wife soon after the verdict was rendered, and then the entire family gave vent to their tears. The prisoner has weakened very perceptibly during the trial, the death of his infant child on Tuesday having added to his sorrows. His attorneys immediately moved for a new trial on the ground that the verdict was contrary to the law and the evidence, and that certain instructions by the court were erroneous. The sentence the court was pronounced this afternoon, the prisoner standing up as requested and only responding when asked why sentence should not be passed on him, that he was not guilty. Mrs. Evans was indicted by the grand jury along with her husband, but the indictment was never returned, and it remains to be seen what action will be taken against her now that her husband has been convicted of a crime for the com-mission of which she is prijury placed no reliance in her sworn dec-Considerable toleration was larations, and they likewise believed that shown toward the extremists during suc- | the killing of Adams was the result of a | your case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, cessive discussions, but forbearance before | conspiracy between them. Mr. Wesner, of counsel for the defense, withdrew from the case last week.

BATTLE IN A MOUNTAIN PASS.

Fight with Negroes in Which Two Men Were Killed and Three Wounded.

CLIFTON FORGE, Va., Oct. 17.-A savage fight occurred between five negroes and the Clifton Forge officers, in the mountain pass, one and a half mile from here, near the gate, this afternoon, resultin the death of a white and a negro. The negroes came to Clifton Forge this morning from the Hill mines, eight miles from here, with the avowed purpose of creating a disturbance. Aided by whisky they became boisterous and defied arrest, leaving in the boisterous and defied arrest, leaving in the same direction they came, followed by the town officers. They were called to a halt at the above point, where a fight ensued in which P. A. Bowling, of the posse, was killed, and Fred Wilkinson was shot in the abdomen and knee. Wilkinson will recover, it is thought. Both were brakemen on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, and were summed by the officials, the former from Albemarle county and the latter from Bedford county. The former was married and lived here.

The news of the shooting spread rapidly, with great excitement, and in a short time fifty men were scouring the mountains fifty men were scouring the mountains where the negroes took refuge, hunting them down. All were captured after several hours' search, and a second battle in the mountains between the policemen and negroes. The other four are in jail here, three of them having been shot before they were captured. They will probably be lynched tonight, though the Mayor is determined to defend them.

Saloon-Keepers Organizing. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Oct. 17 .- A movement is now on foot for the organization of saloon-keepers in unions in the cities and towns throughout the northern part of the State, for mutual protection as well as concerted political action. The first union has been organized at Hammond, Lake county, where sixty saloon-keepers, out of a total of sixty-four, signed the articles of agreement. An organizer is now engaged in this city, and the work is to be pushed vigorously forward. Politically it will be the intention of the unions to elect men to office who are not prohibitionists, and to support candidates for legislative offices who will pledge themselves to oppose any prohibitory legislation. An estimate places the membership of this organization at about five thousand in the State.

The men seem to be making the best of the matter they can and have no hopes of escape. The son of Hawes asked for a conference with his father, but the officers searched him and relieved him of an ugly revolver before he gained admittance. What he intended to do with the weapon is easily surmised.

Who Was the Murderer? Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MITCHELL, Ind., Oct. 17:-Several hundred people were present yesterday at the trial of Joseph Findley, near Bono. No serious evidence was brought against him that would prove his guilt. It is claimed that he has the only forty-calibre revolver that is known in the vicinity, and it will be remembered that the balls which passed through Mrs. Neideffer's body were of the same size. Solomon Neideffer has been in ill health since the murder of his wife last March. There have been several mysterious things connected with the murder which has caused such excitement in the vicinity of Neideffer's home, and detectives have thus far failed to secure certain proof of who was the murderer, but it is now learned that a new clew has been obtained.

Editor Iowa Plain Dealer Cured of Insufferable Itching and Pain by the Cuticura Remedies.

No Less Than Five Physicians Consulted. Their Combined Wisdom Followed Without Benefit,

I am sixty-six years old. In August, 1889, was troubled with the peculiar skin disease to which people of my age are subject, known among medical men as eczema. Its first appearance was near the ankles. It rapidly extended over the lower extremities until my legs were nearly one raw sore; from legs the trouble ex-tended across the hips, shoulders and entire length of the arms, the legs and arms greatly swollen with an itching, burning pain, without cessation. Although the best medical advice attainable was employed, no less than five physicians of the place being consulted and the prescriptions being the result of their combined wisdom, the disease, though apparently checked, would recur in a few days as bad as ever; during its progress my weight fell away about twentyfive pounds. As an experiment I began the use of Cuticura, following the simple and plain instructions given with the Remedies, and in four weeks foun; myself well, with skin soft and natural in color, the itching and pain entirely relieved.
